

Put Library ELF to work for you!

Receive e-mail, text message or RSS feed* reminders:

- Before items are due back at the library
- For overdue items
- When you have a hold available for pick-up from the library

Use Library ELF to:

- Create one-stop access to your family library accounts
- Keep track of accounts at more than one library
- Reduce your overdue fees
- Renew materials online

How does Library ELF work?

- Go to www.libraryelf.com to sign up. Enter your library card number without spaces. The Stratford Library does not require the use of a PIN—leave this field blank. Note: Your library card account(s) must be current to take advantage of this service.
- You can select the frequency of notice delivery.
- Library ELF will check your library account(s) each day and will send you an e-mail, text message or RSS feed to alert you when items are due, past due or if holds are available for pick-up.
- You may access your library account(s) at any time by visiting www.libraryelf.com.
- Library ELF is a third-party service, not affiliated with the Stratford Library. Please read the Library ELF privacy policy and FAQ before signing up for the service.

*Use of RSS aggregators may result in a breach of your privacy, in particular Bloglines does not secure your Library ELF RSS feed. Use the RSS option at your own risk.
